For straightening vertical and horizontal deformations on forks

Use of the new KAUP fork alignment press considerably increases the profitability of your forklift truck. In daily operation it often happens that, during some operations, the forks can no longer withstand the strain and bend in the horizontal and/or vertical axle. Long standing times and expensive repairs through exchange of the deformed forks must normally be taken into account in order to get the forklift truck back into operation.

Deformed forks with a cross cut of up to 80 x 60mm can be straighten immediately, on site, with the new fork alignment press. Thus your forklift truck can be back in operation within a very short time, even down time can be avoided by optimal individual planning of the repair during the FLT's normal off duty times and repair costs are minimised. Furthermore damage to pallets and the load to be handled, which often occurs when operating an attachment with damaged forks, can be avoided.

Straightening of vertical fork deformations

Position the KAUP alignment press upright centrally over the deformation. Place a level bar on top of all the forks and straighten the damaged fork until it is back on line with the other forks. The attachment can immediately be put back into operation.

Straightening of horizontal fork deformations

Position the KAUP alignment press horizontally over the centre of the deformation. Place a level bar along the length of the fork and straighten the damaged fork until it is back on line with the other forks. The attachment can immediately be put back into operation.

KAUP attachments correspond to the requirements of the valid EC regulations regarding quality, safety and technical documentation. All technical data are subject to alteration.

KAUP is certified acc. to DIN EN ISO 9001
